MILWAUKEE--ALLEN DULLES, FORMER HEAD OF THE CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY, SAID YESTERDAY THE U.S. COULD NOT HAVE "GOOD RELATIONS" WITH RUSSIA AS LONG AS THE SOVIET UNION REMAINS COMMUNIST. DULLES, SPEAKING HERE UNDER THE SPONSORSHIP OF THE FRIENDS OF WISCONSIN LIBRARIES, SAID THERE IS THE POSSIBILITY OF A SOVIET "EVOLUTION" AWAY FROM COMMUNISM.

HE SAID INDUSTRIAL AND AGRICULTURAL PROBLEMS, INCREASED FREEDOM OF INFORMATION AND THE RIFT WITH CHINA WOULD HELP ACCELERATE DISENCHANTMENT WITH CENTRALIZED CONTROL.
